Workshop(s) presented by Sherry St. Clair, founder of Reflective Learning LLC. Sherry works with schools across the country, creating specialized training and coaching services for school administrators and educators. As a national consultant, Sherry draws from her rich experience at various levels of public education—teaching elementary school, being an administrator in a high school of 1,300 students, working as a state consultant, and creating and facilitating virtual courses. Sherry is a highly regarded national speaker and consultant, providing educational agencies with expertise in the areas of leadership, effective classroom practices, classroom walkthroughs, effective use of data, balanced literacy, science, and guidance on how to create a culture of college and career readiness.
